What resources are available for schools and community organizations outside the Kaiser Permanente regions?

Schools and organizations outside of the Kaiser Permanente footprint can participate in the Resilience in School Environments (RISE) Initiative – presented in partnership by Kaiser Permanente and Alliance for a Healthier Generation.

RISE is a national initiative that provides teachers and school staff with skills and resources to support student mental health and to better tend to their own emotional needs, especially during times of uncertainty and increased stress. Through engagement with RISE, schools, teachers, and educators will learn how to better manage emotions, recognize strengths and weaknesses, and rise above adversity. Click here to learn more.
